When the people said generally that we needed more production, farmers unwisely launched into the production of perishable products instead of non-perishable products, resulting in great waste. It is upon the non-perishable standard farm products that we must put the emphasis. The rule which you should carry in mind, not only as a safe financial risk on your part, but as a matter of safety for the farmer and the food situation, is not to abnormally increase the production of perishable products beyond the visible transportation supply and the visible market. The home garden ought never to be undertaken except by the labor of the family for the use of the family. I think one of the most injurious things that can possibly happen is to have rich folks in town hire somebody to produce a garden and...
