Excerpt: . . . the dead in proof of the acquittal we had obtained by His death. V. Since, then, from this faith we have attained to righteousness, let us enjoy peace with God. We can procure it now through our Lord esus the Messiah. Through Him, too, we have been introduced by this door of faith into the favour of God in which we have so firm a footing: yes, and we are exulting in the hope of something higher yet, the glory of Gods presence. I will go further, and say that we actually exult in such afflictions as ours, knowing as we do that affliction developes unflinching endurance; that endurance developes tested strength, and tested strength developes the habit of hope. This hope is no delusive one, as is proved by the fact that the brimming river of Gods love has already overflowed into our...
