The Program is responsible for intramural, collaborative, and grant-supported investigations into the distribution, causes, natural history, and means of preventing cancer. The epidemiologic approach is comprehensive and covers the gamut of environmental and host determinants of cancer. The Program also conducts and supports the development of new methodologic approaches in epidemiology and biostatistics, multidisciplinary investigations that combine epidemiologic and laboratory methods, and biostatistical and mathematical research that permits a better understanding of carcinogenic mechanisms and quantitative cancer risk assessment. Dr. Joseph F. Fraumeni, Jr. continued to direct the Program as the Associate Director for Epidemiology and Biostatistics. Dr. William J. Blot was appointed this year as Chief of the Biostatistics Branch, which now includes the Analytical Studies Section (Chief, Dr. Blot) which was transferred from the Environmental Epidemiology Branch. In addition, an Epidemiologic Methods Section (Chief, Dr. Mitchell Gail) was created...
